PREPARE TO BE INVIOLATED: INVIOULATE ANNOUNCES ORLANDO APPEARANCE WITH ONE-EYED DOLL & EYES SET TO KILL

March 27, 2016: Inviolata shares the stage with One-Eyed Doll and Eyes Set to Kill at Backbooth Lounge in a special Easter Sunday appearance.

Atlanta-based Inviolata's lineup is a unique rotation of 14 band members hailing from the Southeast. At any given show, the audience will see any combination of guitarists, bassists and drummers alongside vocalist/electronic musician Kadria (currently the sole full-time member of the band) to create the 4-piece band onstage. The March 27 lineup consists of Robert Hannon on bass, Ernie Topran on drums, and newcomer Ashley Taylor on guitar. On top of the headbang-worthy riffs and rhythms, Kadria's performance as a bellydancing frontwoman (complete with scimitar) adds entrancing elements found nowhere else in the metal world.

The band was founded in 2006 as a traditional 4-member band, and shifted to the rotating lineup (named "Inviolata 2.0") in 2010. Inviolata has played Orlando since 2009. This show will be their 5th date with One-Eyed Doll (having opened for them across several cities in the Southeast in 2015). Their simultaneously melodic and aggressive style has earned them opening spots with bands ranging from progressive metal (Epica, Symphony X, Amaranthe), industrial/electronic rock & metal (Static-X, The Dreaming/Stabbing Westward, Celldweller) and well-known female-fronted metal acts (Butcher Babies, Otep, Kittie). Backed by label Strange One Records, they continually tour up and down the East Coast and plan to break into new markets through the Midwest for the rest of the year. They released a self-titled EP in 2007, and 8-song album titled "Feast of Ashes" in 2012. Its single "Condemned" garnered Inviolata a nomination for Video of the Year at the Georgia Music Awards in 2013, and the band itself has been nominated for the Georgia Music Awards' Best Metal Band in 2013 through 2015. Inviolata is also currently in the writing process for the next album and is projected to be in the studio this summer.

Atlanta female-fronted industrial rock/metal band Inviolata opens for One-Eyed Doll and Eyes Set to Kill at Backbooth Lounge, Orlando FL on Sunday, March 27 at 4:30 PM. Additional bands that day include Open your Eyes, Arcadence, and The Knowing Withing. Tickets can be purchased at <http://inviolate1.com/tickets> for $13. All-Ages show.
